Titletown is a new mixed-use development located directly west of Green Bay's iconic Lambeau Field, and features approximately 220 residences and a four-to-five story office building. Phase two adds to the "live" and "work" elements of Titletown's draw and will accelerate the economic growth of Greater Green Bay.

TitletownHomes, are a mix of three different styles of townhomes available for ownership. The design pays homage to the area's industrial history and its natural surroundings, while envisioning Greater Green Bay's burgeoning future. To create that vision, materials include gray brick and natural stone, steel, wood and a natural color palette that speaks to the many natural wonders of Northeastern Wisconsin.
