Vu is situated in the hillside community of MacDonald Highlands, one of the top luxury communities in Las Vegas. An undulating site called for careful consideration in home placement. The solution was to “march” the homes up the hill with the single-story units at the lowest points and the three and four-story units behind. Sweeping views of the Las Vegas strip from every home are the result of this careful planning. In order to enhance these views designers incorporated an abundance of windows and multiple outdoor spaces oriented toward the city. Pulling inspiration from the Greek island of Santorini, these townhomes are designed with simple forms, clean lines and a cool color palette of whites, creams and blues.
